SNAKE AWARENESS SEMINAR

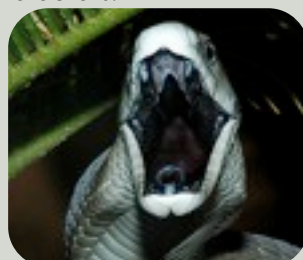

Join Sean Thomas and Gary Fryer, as they speak about Snakes, their conservation, snake-bite, snake management, Identification, and their experiences over 20 years of working with these awesome predators.

Snakes have long been the subject of nightmares. Sean and Gary talk about snakes in general, their biology, the importance of their conservation, with some mind-blowing statistics. Learn what to do in the case of a snakebite, or encountering a snake on ones property. Learn how to identify snakes and how you can help in their conservation. Sean and Gary also talk about some of their own experiences, from snakebite, to working with Black mambas, working with Sir David Attenborough and their own exciting projects and environmental work. This educational program is aimed at industry and business, where safety and conservational ideals are valued.

A must for all outdoor enthusiasts, safety managers, conservationists and environmentally involved people, groups or companies.

WCSC have delivered talks in various countries, including Madagascar, UAE, RSA, Namibia, Mozambique, Angola, Botswana and Tanzania, and has consulted to many industries with regard to reptile awareness, snakebite and environmental documentary filming.
